Publications of Interest for Families

Who Have Children with Special Needs

October 2004

Do You Know About ... the variety of publications aimed specifically at the families of children and youth with unique learning needs?

For example:

- Exceptional Parent Magazine: A U.S.-based publication dedicated to supplying information and support for the Special Needs Community. This is an excellent resource with interesting and often timely articles. In addition, there are often ads for products and services rarely seen in Canada. Cost: $54.95 (cdn) annually. Order by calling 1-877-372-7368.
- ADDitude Magazine: "A happy, healthy, lifestyle magazine for people with ADD." Published bi-monthly in the U.S. Many interesting articles about AD(H)D families, their issues, concerns and resolutions. Well worth reading. Cost $19.97 (U.S.) annually. To order call 1-888-762-8475.
- Monthly or quarterly Family and Community Association publications can keep you abreast of the latest developments in research, local services, community events, etc. Many publications are accessible on the internet. Contact the local Association connected to your interest (ie., Autism Society, Downs Syndrome Association, Learning Disability Association, etc.).

Enjoy your reading.
